warmer in the canyon bottoms, or “runs,” would often huddle there to avoid the cold. Pioneer hunters would herd the turkeys through these natural funnels into a central location for an easy harvest. Historic accounts suggest that large numbers of turkeys lived in the area, prompting its name.

The exposed bedrock here is Mansfield sandstone, named after the town. This deposit was formed during the Carboniferous Period, when the buildup of sand at the mouth of the ancient Michigan River was slowly compacted and cemented into solid rock. The swampy environment of this period produced vast coal deposits. Coal was mined here in the late 1800s and early 1900s. Seams of coal are still visible along many of the trails.

In more recent history, during the Pleistocene Epoch, the sandstone bedrock was carved into today’s familiar canyons and formations by the eroding action of glacial meltwaters. The Punchbowl on Trail 3 is an example of a pothole that was scoured out by glacial erratics caught in swirling backwash. Erratics are pieces of bedrock from Canada carried here by the glaciers. Some of the larger erratics, or boulders, can still be seen in Boulder Canyon on Trail 9, smaller ones, pebbles, rest in and along Sugar Creek.

Many historic structures are preserved at Turkey Run, providing a glimpse of life in more recent days. The Lusk Home and mill site serve as a testament to the early enterprise and ambition characteristic of 19th century Hoosiers. Lieber Cabin, constructed of virgin timber in the 1840s, is the oldest of its kind in the state. The Log Church, built in 1871, stands as a reminder of the area’s religious heritage. Shelter houses, a saddle barn and many sandstone trail structures are the legacy of the hard-working young men of the Civilian Conservation Corps, Camp 8, stationed here in 1934-1935.

Turkey Run serves as the final resting place for Col. Richard Lieber, the father of Indiana State Parks. His foresight allowed Indiana to become one of the first states to preserve significant natural areas in a system of state parks. You’ll find his memorial atop a peaceful hemlock grove near the end of Trail 11.

THIS IS YOUR PARK

Visitors shall observe property rules which are designed to fulfill the purpose for which state parks were established, namely, to preserve a primitive landscape in its natural condition for the public’s use and enjoyment.

Please let wild animals remain wild.

Feeding deer is prohibited. Feeding of wild animals can result in harm to both animals and people. Animals who depend on handouts become a nuisance to visitors and a danger to themselves. Please lock up all food and coolers inside cars or campers. Roll up car windows tightly.

ACTIVITIES AND FACILITIES

CAMPING—Campground equipped with flush toilets, hot water and showers. Occupancy limited to 14 consecutive nights. Most sites will accommodate trailers. No individual water or sewer hookups, but electricity is available. Reservations available through the Central Reservation System.

FISHING—Bass, bluegills, etc. State license required.

HIKING—With miles of easy to very rugged trails, hiking is one of the most popular activities at Turkey Run. Bicycles must remain on paved public roads.

INN—Inn rooms, inn cabins. All inn rooms are air-conditioned. Single meals, Sunday dinners, banquets. Reservations available through the Inns Reservation System.

INTERPRETIVE NATURALIST SERVICE—Available all year. Inquire at Nature Center, park office or Inn, or check bulletin boards for scheduled activities, including day hikes, night hikes, planetarium star shows, workshops, park patch programs, live animal talks, campfire programs and history talks. Call in advance to schedule special group programs. Program schedules at InterpretiveServices.IN.gov or call 765-597-2654.

LIEBER CABIN—The cabin currently houses exhibits telling the story of Lieber and the creation of the State Park system.

LUSK HOME—Built in 1841 by the first European settlers to own this land. The restored house is open for tours seasonally. A period garden, created by volunteers, is on the grounds of the home.

NATURE CENTER—Open all year. Hands-on activities, live animals, bird viewing, nature library, planetarium, trail information, naturalist.

PICNIC AREA—Tables, grills, toilet facilities, playground equipment, tennis and basketball courts and playfields. Reservations for shelters available through the Central Reservation System.

SADDLE BARN—Hayrides, guided horseback rides.

SWIMMING—Olympic-size pool with wading pool and pool house, open approximately Memorial Day to early August. Facility may close due to lifeguard availability or weather conditions. For current information contact the property office.

CREEK SWIMMING IS PROHIBITED
Sugar Creek is extremely hazardous. Take no chances. Do not wade or swim.

TURKEY RUN STATE PARK

Classic examples of natural and human history abound at Turkey Run State Park, from its deep canyons nestled in the shadows of sandstone and peaceful hemlock groves to the Salmon Lusk Home and mill site.

Our second state park also invites you to some of Indiana’s most ruggedly beautiful hiking trails. From the tiny mosses and ferns to the majestic old-growth walnuts and sycamores, lush plant communities thrive, supporting an abundance of wildlife. Deer tracks, beaver-chewed trees, pileated woodpecker excavations and the rocking flight of the turkey vulture are common sights throughout the year.

Turkey Run is located in west-central Indiana on State Road 47, 2 miles east of S.R. 41. The first parcel of Turkey Run’s 2,382 acres was purchased during the state’s centennial in 1916, when the state park system was established.

One story about how Turkey Run got its name says that wild turkeys, finding it
